

NAZI AIRCRAFT SITES BLASTED FOR 10TH CONSECUTIVE DAY BY BOMBERS OF U. S.; ALLIED OFFENSIVE ROARS

Medium Sized Forces Hammer at Brunswick—Another
Stage in Destruction of Germany's Railroad Communications — Osnabruck Also Bombed.

By John E. Lee

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
LONDON, Apr. 26.—The Brunswick area of Germany, site of Nazi aircraft plants, was blasted again today by U. S. bombers on the 10th consecutive day of the sustained Allied aerial offensive against the invasion-threatened continent.
The official headquarters announcement said medium sized forces hammered targets at Brunswick. Today's offensive was another stage in the destruction of Germany's railroad communications. Brunswick is a large railway junction where a number of trunk lines meet, as well as a fighter-plane production center. Osnab-ruck, which the Germans say also was bombed, is a great railway center, with huge marshalling yards and freight depots.

Missionary to Ethiopia Speaks at Andalusia

ANDALUSIA, Apr. 26.—Donald M.
Davies, a missionary to Ethiopia,
who left that country during the Italian conquest, and who plans to return next month following studies at Princeton University, Princeton, N. J., addressed members of Bensalem Rotary Club last evening.
Kenneth Carnahan introduced the speaker at the dinner meeting in King Hall.

Mr. Davies, who served as minister of McCallister Memorial Presbyterian Church, Torredale, for a time following his return from the African continent, told not only of his experiences as a missionary, but also of the topography of the land, customs of the people, their manner of earning a living, and something of his travels.

He mentioned a journey to the pyramids of Egypt and dwelt at length on visit to the King's and Queen's chambers, and the enormity of the rooms. Mr. Davies mentioned that the population of Ethiopia is 10,000,000, divided into three races of people each of which is very distinctive. He added that Judaism shows a very strong influence.

That the history of the Ethiopian people is readily traced by them back 3000 years was another point brought out. Haile Selassie being claimed as a direct descendant of King Solomon.

For two years the missionary served at Addis Ababa, a large city where there are distinct divisions between the old and new sections.
He described the newer section as having paved streets, masonry buildings and modern conveniences.
The city's elevation is 8500 feet above sea level, making a delightful climate in summer. The only means of transportation is via a narrow gauge railroad, extending 500 miles from Djibouti, the trip requiring three days, and the train not running at night. There being no roads or highways, other travel is by horse-back. Agriculture of Ethiopia is the main means of livelihood, the soil being very rich. There is also great trade in hides, the Rotarians were informed.

The meeting was in charge of Jacob Scheufele, vice-president, who extended felicitations to the Rev. Arthur F. Gibson on the 100th anniversary of Christ Episcopal Church, Eddington, which is being marked at this season.

Mrs. Fred Meisner Dies; Was Resident of Siles

SILES, Apr. 26.—Mrs. Florence H.
Meisner, widow of Fred Meisner, of McGee avenue, died in Abington Hospital yesterday. Mrs. Meisner had made her home in this section for the past five years, residing during that time in Langhorne and here.

Her survivors are the following daughters and sons: Mrs. Edward Karpinski, of Trevose; Martha, Loretta and Jane Meisner, of Siles; Kenneth Meisner, S. 2/c, of Sampson, N. Y.; Staff Sgt. Irvin Meisner, Fort Meade, Md.; Pvt. Robert Meisner, who is overseas; and Pvt. Lawrence Meisner, Fort McClellan, Ala.

The Rev. Woodrow W. Kern, pastor of Trevose Methodist Church, will conduct the service at the Meisner home on Friday at 2:30 p. m. Burial will be in Wm. Penn Cemetery, with R. L. Horner, funeral director, in charge. Friends may call Thursday evening.

Marine Killed, 1 Hurt When Automobile Skids

A U. S. Marine was killed, and another injured on Bethlehem Pike while on leave for a muni-cipated rest following months of action in the Southwest Pacific.

The victims are: William E.
Roehler, 20, of Bath R. D. 1, Lehigh County, who died a short time after the accident in Sacred Heart Hospital, Allentown, Sunday night; and Herbert R. Schuster, 20, of Marlton, N. J. R. D. 1, who is being treated in the same hospital for broken jaw, two fractured arms and lacerations of the head.

The two Marines, who have been shooting Japs in the jungles, were sent back to the Philadelphia Navy Yard. They were on a week-end leave to Roehler's home near Bath, and were returning to League Island, about 2:15 Sunday morning, a mile south of Allentown, on the Bethlehem pike, the Marines signaled to an approaching motorist for a ride.

John H. Jacoby, 20, of Coopers-burg, RD 1, driver of the approaching automobile, applied his brakes too rapidly, and his car went into a skid on the wet highway. The car swerved around directly into the path of the two Marines, knocking them down to the concrete and dragging them some distance.

Jacoby managed to get the two injured Marines into his car, with some difficulty and hurried them to the hospital.

State Police from the Quaker-town sub-station investigated.

GLEANED BY SCRIBES

The screams of a child and calls brought a woman from her home across the street and a man from next door to help in preventing the spread of a fire that, given a few minutes more headway, would have destroyed the house of Casimir A.

BRISTOL CLERGYMAN GIVEN HIGH HONOR

Rev. W. E. Preston Haas Elected Grand Warden
of I. O. O. F. in Pa.

RECEIVES A BIG VOTE

At the election of the Grand Lodge of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, at which time only the past grands of the state voted,
the Rev. W. E. Preston Haas, pastor of the Bristol Methodist Church was honored by being elected to the office of grand warden of the State of Pennsylvania.

The installation ceremony will take place in Pittsburgh during the month of June. Rev. Haas will be installed as grand master of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania in June 1945.

The office grand warden is a coveted honor. There were six candidates with the following results:
W. G. Shortz, Luzerne Co., 339 votes; P. B. Cameron, Phila., 999 votes; N. W. Foulke, Bradford Co., 239 votes; I. H. Epstein, of Armstrong Co., 96 votes; G. S. Powell, Blair Co., 359 votes; W. E. Preston
Haas, Bucks Co., 4,514 votes.

It is not often that the winning candidate has such a majority over the whole field. This makes Rev.
Haas the youngest grand warden to be elected to this position of leadership of a fraternity which claims nearly 99,000 members in this state. There are four orphanages, two homes for aged, and two Rebeah homes in this jurisdiction which pays out annually more than $607,000 in sick and death benefits.

Heavy Casualties Inflicted on "Japs" at Arakan

Kandy, Ceylon—Heavy casualties were inflicted on the Japs in the Arakan area of northwest Burma and at the same time British Imperial forces have regained the initiative in the northern sector of the Imphal front in India, the southeast Asia command said today.

Adm. Lord Louis Mountbatten's headquarters revealed that the Imphal offensive, moving along the road toward Kohima which is 60 miles north, had advanced 22 miles toward the latter communications center.

Another Allied force made further progress in its drive along the Ukhrul Road, and in the Kohima area large forces of men, tanks and artillery were moving into position for a stepped-up attack to completely erase the Jap threat to that important base. U. S. airmen supported the Allied ground offensives, blasting enemy troop concentrations and communications lines.

"No Question of Cession of British Territories to U. S."

London—The House of Commons was assured today by Prime Minister Winston Churchill that there is not the slightest question of the cession of British territories to the United States after the war.

Churchill's statement was made in reply to a question by Rhys Davies, Laborite member of Parliament. The MP had called attention to a recommendation of a committee of the American House of Representatives for the permanent possession of bases now leased from Britain. Davies asked Churchill for assurance that if a request for cession of British bases was made officially from Washington that the House of Commons be entitled to debate the subject before the Government entered into any such agreement.

ROOSEVELT GETS 126 Only 10% of 43,184 Regis- tered Voters Went to Polls

Approximately ten percent of the 43,184 registered voters in Bucks County went to the polls at the primary election yesterday and expressed their preference for candidates for the various offices. It was the lightest primary vote cast in Bucks County for years.

In the Democratic contest for delegate to the national convention in the eighth district, Mrs. Carrie J. Shellenberger, of Doylestown, received 1074 votes in Bucks County, and 1135 votes in Lehigh County.
She was defeated by Charles W.
Ettlinger of Allentown, who received 628 votes in Bucks County, and 2739 votes in Lehigh County, and Frank F. Hausman, Allentown, who received 464 votes in Bucks County,
and 2,289 votes in Lehigh County.
The votes from two districts in Lehigh County are not reported in this tabulation, but it is certain that Ettlinger and Hausman defeated Mrs. Shellenberger.

In the Republican contest in Yardley borough Mrs. Ethel McGill was defeated by Susanna Force in the contest for a member of the county committee. Mrs. Force polled 61 votes, while Mrs. McGill received 31. William Johnson, the present male member of this committee, was renominated, polling 86 votes.

In the Republican contest in Southampton, Upper District, for the representative on the county committee, Joseph J. Forker, the present incumbent, was defeated by George S. Robinson, the vote being 194 to 18. Elizabeth M. Lynch, female member of the committee, polled 191 votes.

Complete returns from the 109 election districts in Bucks County, showed the voters' preference for Republican candidate for president as follows: Dewey, 2194; Roosevelt, 126; Martin, 60; Bricker, 30; Mac-Arthur, 99; Stassen, 33. All of these names were written in as no names were printed for president on the Republican ballot.

Roosevelt, whose name was printed on the Democratic ballot as a candidate for president, received 1,426 votes.

In the contest on the Democratic ballot for judge of the superior court complete returns give Arthur H. James, 457; Chester H. Rhodes, 556; F. Clair Ross, 1197.

For auditor general—John F.
Breslin, 631; G. Harold Wagner, 737.

Complete returns on the Republican ticket give James 4,524; Gaff, 3474; Rhodes, 1422.

Returns from 89 of the 109 election districts in Bucks County give the following for candidates on the Republican ballot—U. S. Senator, James J. Davis, 3553; Judge of the Supreme Court, Howard W.

Hughes, 3527. Auditor general, G.
Harold Watkins, 3513. State treas-

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT
(Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

Mr. Wallace and China

Washington, April 25.

THE forthcoming
trip to China on a
"diplomatic mission" of Mr. Henry Wallace has stirred considerable interest in both diplomatic and political circles. It is, in fact, amazing how many ways have been found for looking at this latest of our

Vice-President's ventures into foreign fields.

MUCH OF the speculation is due to the mystery of what his mission really is and why Mr. Wallace, certainly not a conspicuous diplomat, was chosen as the instrument.
Neither President nor Vice-President has thrown light on these points, and the only thing known surely is that the idea originated in the White House, not in the State Department. The latter would never voluntarily choose Mr. Wallace as its representative.

IT MAY be worth while to note some of the reasons assigned for the Wallace visit. On the diplomatic side, for example, it is said, first, that he is going to explain to the Generalissimo why the arms, munitions and other supplies promised him at Cairo have not materialized. It seems that at Cairo the President optimistically promised the Generalissimo considerably more than we could deliver—and the latter is understandably aggrieved at our failure to redeem our promises. The Wallace job, it is said, is to soothe the Generalssimo's ruffled feelings, allay his disappointment, persuade him that our intentions in this matter are of the best; that in the course of time we will make good.

IT IS further said the Vice-President is expected to counteract with kind words Chinese feeling continued On Page Two

An Evening "At Home"

By the "Stroller")

A sixth ward man took "refuge" in the cellar the other night for a few hours, but there was no air raid.

Said localite, out with his wife and mother-in-law, decided to go home and not accompany the two women to an evening function after shopping was completed.

Reaching the house he discovered that he had no key. Anxious to get inside he opened a cellar window and slid down through the coal pile. Up the cellar steps he hurried, only to find the door leading to the kitchen locked.

What to do next? That was the problem. If he got out of the cellar he couldn't get into the house proper. But he couldn't even get out of the cellar for the coal pile down which he had slid and soiled his suit was even more difficult to negotiate on the upgrade.

So while he kept the furnace company for the evening he found ample opportunity to ponder over a ruined evening, a cleaner's bill to get the coal dirt out of his suit, and an explanation to his wife for a short memory as far as keys are concerned.

THE REAL JAP

Information contained in a diary of a Japanese doctor, picked up by an American sergeant on the island of Attu, pictures the Jap as a craven rather than a hero in the face of danger. Often, instead of dying while facing the enemy fighting, he takes the cowardly course of suicide. Japanese officers often are the first to quit.

The day-by-day account of the capture of Attu, as recorded in the diary, is as interesting as it is dramatic. It has been made public after careful authentication by the board of censorship. The story is told in good English, the doctor—whose name is withheld—having been educated in the United States, a graduate of a California university.

The account begins with an account of the flight of the first American plane over the island, and ends with the announcement that the writer, one of few remaining Japs on the island, has been ordered to commit suicide.

The commanding officer was among the first to commit suicide. As the American attack increased in fury, the wounded were dispatched with morphine. Every man still alive and unrounded carried a grenade in his hand constantly. Soon there was no food. The writer ate wild thistles the last few days. The diary ends with the despairing entry: "Only 33 years of living and I am to die here."

POET LAUREATE VOTE

Rep. William C. Cole of Missouri has introduced a concurrent resolution in the House, proving that one Horace C. Carlisle, "whose poems have from time to time been printed in the Congressional Record, is hereby designated as poet laureate of Congress." The Missourian asks that this poet shall have "the privilege of having printed in the appendix of the Congressional Record poems of his own composition, but not to exceed one such poem of more than 25 lines in any issue of such Record."

Of course, there is a fine distinction between being poet laureate of Congress and poet laureate of the entire nation, but the action of Representative Cole will be regarded as an entering wedge. If this poet gets one job it will be a simple matter to ease him into another one. And despite the critical paper shortage, here is a proposal that would accord a special privilege in the pages of the Record, a literary distinction not enjoyed by any other poet.

The delegation in Congress from this state is urged to be on guard. It should demand an immediate and searching investigation of Mr. Carlisle's qualifications and insist that his poems be submitted to a board of inquiry for official appraisal. Poets from this state are legion and if anybody is to be made poet laureate of Congress they should have an opportunity to show their wares.

cerning the British reverses in Burma and India. In addition, he is to explain why the Moonbathton offensive is behind schedule, along with various other things. Of course, in the absence of any statement from the White House, all this is pure guesswork. Though it is difficult to think what they could be, Mr. Wallace may be charged with a mission related to things very different from these. But if this is what he is to do—and this is the general belief—then it would seem that, unless Mr. Wallace's personal charm is such as to disarm all Chinese criticism (and the Generalissimo is said to be rather allergic to charm in these matters), then it would appear that these messages of reassurance could be delivered, at least with equal effect, by our military and diplomatic authorities in the field.

OF COURSE, the real way to improve Chinese morale is to give them what was promised or, at any rate, more than they have been getting. It is certainly open to doubt that a "Good Will Ambassador" with a few handsome alibis and more promises can do a great deal to help the situation. Perhaps this is one reason many persons have been seeing a political side to the Wallace mission. Some suggest that, having determined again to make Mr. Wallace his running mate, the President thinks that this China trip would be a fine "buildup."

OTHERS SAY that, having decided to ditch Mr. Wallace, the President is sending him away in order to have greater freedom in picking his successor. Neither of these notions is supported by any facts whatever. Both may be—and probably are—without foundation. Nevertheless, the fact that the Democratic convention is only three months off and Mr. Wallace, a hundred per cent. loyal to Mr. Roosevelt and wholeheartedly for a fourth term, is obviously anxious not to be ditched, makes it inevitable that those for him and those against him should speculate on these lines. To the detached view the sending of Mr. Wallace on this confidential mission makes more certain his renomination.

CERTAINLY, it shows that the personal relations between the President and Mr. Wallace are still close and cordial. Under such circumstances the likelihood of Mr. Roosevelt ditching his exceedingly loyal Vice-President is remote. There are at least three reasons for thinking so: (1) Mr. Roosevelt personally is not capable of the cold-hearted brutality of such an act; (2) no President has ever turned down a loyal Vice-President seeking renomination; (3) no really smart politician thinks there is anything to be gained by substituting Mr. Rayburn, Senator Truman or anyone else for Mr. Wallace.

MR. ROOSEVELT probably knows this as well as anyone. Accordingly, the idea that there is some subtle political purpose in sending him out of the country does not make sense. Probably there is no real mystery about it and Mr. Wallace, eager for new experiences and loving to travel, just wants to go to China, and the President, amiably, is co-operating. That is as good an explanation as any. Anyhow, the State Department is glad Mr. Wallace has not been studying Chinese and, thus, would be tempted to address the Chinese in their own language. One of the basic beliefs among career diplomats is that a representative of this country should never address the people of another in their own language.

guage unless he speaks it perfectly. Experience has proven that they do not feel complimented when thus addressed by a foreigner whose accent is all wrong and who muddles both grammar and pronunciation. It is said in the department that Mr. Wallace's speech in Spanish to the Mexicans a year or so ago was not a success. Asked what sort of Spanish Mr. Wallace spoke on that occasion, a diplomat who heard him replied, "Oh, quite good El Corn Bello Spanish."

GRAND THEATRE

Take someone with you when you go to see "The Lodger!"

The picturization of Mrs. Marie Belloc Lowndes' best-selling story of Jack the Ripper opened at the Grand Theatre yesterday and it can be unequivocally—if quiveringly—stated that it is the tensest, most suspenseful shocker that ever wracked the wrought-up nerves of a movie audience. From its beginning in the shadowy fog of London's Whitechapel district, it is an adventure in movie-going that will remain indelibly in your memory.

LEGAL NOTICE

In the Orphans' Court of the County of Bucks.
Estate of Harry Daniels, late of the Borough of Bristol, Bucks County, Pennsylvania, deceased.
To the Heirs, Legatees, Creditors and other persons interested in said Estate:
Notice is hereby given that Samuel S. Harding, Administrator of the above named Estate, has filed in the Office of the Clerk of the Orphans' Court of Bucks County, Pennsylvania, his petition, praying for the sale of the real estate of said decedent, situate in the Borough of Bristol, Bucks County, Pennsylvania, bounded and described as follows:
All that certain messuage and lot of land situate in the Borough of Bristol, County of Bucks and State of Pennsylvania, bounded and described as follows, to wit:
Beginning on the northeast side of Walnut Street at a corner of land now or late of Samuel Ruez, thence by and along the right angle to said Walnut Street one hundred and fifty feet more or less to a public alley, thence southerly along said alley thirty-one and five-tenths feet more or less to a corner of land now or late of the Estate of Matthew Glenmont, thence southerly by said land and at right angles to said Walnut Street twenty-six and two-tenths feet more or less to a corner, thence northwesterly still by the same and parallel with said Walnut Street nine and five-tenths feet to another corner in the line of said land now or late of the Estate of Matthew Glenmont, thence southerly by said land and at right angles to said Walnut Street one hundred and seventy-eight feet more or less to the place of Beginning, be the contents thereof more or less.
Being the same premises which Mary A. Welsh, single, by her deed of indenture bearing date the 15th day of August A. D. 1926, and recorded in the Office for the Records of Deeds in and for the County of Bucks in Book Book No. 645, at page 484, etc., has been considered therein mentioned, did grant and convey unto Henry Daniels and Corodine Y. Daniels, his wife in fee simple, the sum of Fifteen Hundred ($1500.00) Dollars, for the payment of the decedent's debts. If no exceptions are filed thereto or objections made to granting the same, the Court will be asked to take action upon said petition on the 15th day of May A. D. 1944.

Eternal Father, we thank Thee for the encouragement we derive from Thy Word, and for the fact that as we study its contents we derive strength for the trials of the day. Grant, O God, that we might cherish this gift of grace which Thou hast given unto us, and use it diligently, that our spirits might be encouraged, our hearts strengthened, and our wills fortified, that we might the better accomplish Thy Will. Through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

ORIOLA, SHAKY AT START, LOSES TILT FOR HIGH SCHOOL

Yields Quartet of Markers, Enabling Trenton Nine To Win Game

FINAL SCORE IS 7 TO 6

Visiting Hurler Blanks Bristol For First Four Frames

"Toby" Oriola had a shaky start on the mound for Bristol High yesterday afternoon as he yielded four tallies to Trenton Catholic in the first inning. The quartet of markers enabled the Jersey boys to score a close 7-6 triumph over the Bristol boys.

After permitting the four runs, Oriola allowed one in each of the second, third and fourth innings and then whitewashed the Catholic boys the remainder of the game.

While this was going on, it was a different story for James, the visiting hurler. For the first four frames, he issued blanks to Bristol, but then he began to tire and was nipped for a run in the fifth, three more in the sixth, and another pair in the Bristol uprising in their last turn with the stick.

It was this last rally which had the crowd on edge. Batting for Stevenson, "Sonny" Fields drew a pass, Johnson got on base via an error, Mari got hold of a James' pitch and walled it into centerfield, scoring both runners but when he tried to reach third, he was put out. Keyses and Fischer were easy outs.

Bristol hit more steadily in the game than they did at Langhorne. The local boys had 10 safe blows with Mari, Keyes and Oriola getting a pair each. Trenton Catholic had eleven safe hits, with all the players getting at least one with the exception of Colocello.

Oriola's downfall was the result of two passes in the first inning. He walked DiPietro and Warwick got a hit. When Walsh was walked, the bases were loaded. A double by Tobias scored two runs and another pair crossed on a hit by Kelly.

in origin, is celebrating this year the 125th anniversary of the first American lodge.

Mr. Haas is a member of American Star Lodge, No. 405, of Philadelphia. His activity in the state organization includes: grand chaplain, 1936-37, for Grand Master

The last clergyman to occupy the office of grand warden was the Rev. Dr. Simon Sipple, of the Reformed Church of Allentown, who was elected in 1929. The last Bucks County man to be so honored was Webster Grim, Esq., of Doylestown, elected in 1927.

Congratulations are being received by Mr. Haas from leaders from all over the state.

A number of members of Hopkins Lodge, No. 87, of Bristol, were active in the campaign for their local candidate. This lodge will meet at seven o'clock tomorrow evening and visit the American Star Lodge in order to be present when the grand warden-elect makes his first official visit to his own lodge.

will be ready for cutting by May 1. In spite of the poor weather conditions, some of the vegetable planting at National Farm School has been completed. This has been done in fields with good drainage and where it was dry.

Nine thousand cabbage plants and 3000 lettuce plants have been set out. The peas and the onion sets have also been planted. It is not expected the cool weather will retard the growth of any of these vegetables.

Bristol Soldier Gets Gunner's Wings

Keesler Field's (Mississippi) technical training school recently graduated two former residents of Bristol as airplane mechanics in the maintenance of big B-24 Liberator bombers. Finishing their 17-week course here the men will be sent either to line duty, to a factory school for further specialized training, or to one of the Army Air Forces training command's aerial gunnery schools. The graduates include: Pvt. John A. Aquilone, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Aquilone, Pine street; and Pvt. Frank James Aquilone, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Aquilone, Pine street. Aviation Cadet Elwood W. King, 25, has completed the Army's primary flight training course at Thunderbird Field, No. 1, Glendale, Ariz., and has now commenced his basic flight training at another air field. A/C Elwood W. King, whose home is in Hulmeville, is a graduate of Langhorne-Middletown high school. Before he entered the armed service on June 12, 1943, at Philadelphia, A/C Elwood W. King was employed by Rohm & Haas Co. He served at Keesler Field, Miss.; Texas Tech., Lubbock, Texas; Santa Ana, Cal., and Thunderbird Field, No. 1, Ariz. At Thunderbird Field he was an Aviation Cadet flight sergeant. A/C Elwood W. King is married. His wife resides in Hulmeville.

While the younger boy was taking a bath, the other youngster saw flames coming out of a closet under a stairway leading from the first to the second floor. His screams brought the student-nurse downstairs, but in her confusion she was unable to get the police or the fire house on the telephone. Instead, she ran out on the porch and called for help.

Mrs. C. A. Liebig, who lives across the street, heard the girl calling. She was the first to reach the house and started pouring water from kitchen pots on the fire as soon as she had sent in the fire alarm. She was joined very soon by George Flack, another neighbor. It was the "bucket brigade" work of Mrs. Liebig and Flack that undoubtedly saved the house from total destruction. Fire Chief Clarence Irwin said upon his arrival.

The fire had spread to the stairway and the panelling and beams on the first floor when the fire company arrived, but had not gotten into any of the partitions. It was very promptly extinguished.

Mr. Sienkiewicz stated yesterday that after examining the burned portion of the house with experts no cause for the fire could be determined. The damage, including the contents of the closet, according to Mr. Sienkiewicz, will amount to about $1,000.

From China, Staff Sgt. Harvey Crouthamel, of Buckingham, has sent a copy of the "China-Burma-Indian Roundup," the official Army newspaper of that war theatre, which contains an article about his crew associates aboard a Mitchell Bomber. It is a story of the "little people" of China.

"It all began when a Mitchell bomber of the Chinese-American Composite Wing ran out of gas on the way to its home base. The pilot, Lt. Guy H. Williams, made a quick calculation in the darkening China skies, and set out for an emergency field. When he landed he was calmly greeted by the Chinese station master, who, after taking the crew to sleeping quarters in the station house, invited them to a nearby city for dinner. When they arrived they found the table set and the meal ready. After they had dined, the inhabitants of the city, who had never seen a Chinese-American crew before, were permitted to file in and view the fliers.

"That night it rained. When the fliers arose in the morning it was to find the bomber mired in the mud. The station master procured several hundred coolies, who tied ropes to the plane and towed it to higher ground.

"The pilot still couldn't see how the plane could take off. So he asked the station master for boards to put under the wheels. The station master said none was available. But he called a conference among the Chinese and then told the pilot that the boards would be brought.

"The boards duly arrived on the backs of the Chinese. It developed that they had gone to their homes and removed their doors, which they proceeded to put under the plane.

"The pilot gave orders to take off. Another of the small incidents by the people of China had enabled an American plane to take the air

in the state over other write-ins in the Republican primary. For example, early returns from Philadelphia and Allegheny counties alone gave Dewey 61,927; Gov. Edward Martin, 2757; Gen. Douglas MacArthur, 3431; President Roosevelt, 2148; Gov. John W. Bricker, of Ohio, 1499; Lt. Cmdr. Harold E. Stassen, former Minnesota governor, 940; Wendell Willkie, 633; Prime Minister Winston Churchill, 1.

Incomplete returns in the State gave Roosevelt 155,028. Four years ago he polled 724,657 votes. In 1940, Dewey received 52,661 write-in votes in the Republican primary.

HEADQUARTERS, Panama Canal—(INS)—Taps put an end to an impromptu fashion review in a coast artillery command barracks here. The review started innocently when Sgt. Warren D. Munro, of Geneva, Ind., displayed his costume for a theatrical production. It was nothing more than a pin-striped blue worsted civilian suit but every soldier in the barracks had a try at "just seeing how I look in it."

As a member of the Naval Reserve, Walter was called to active duty soon after Pearl Harbor and received his early training at Solomons, Maryland.

Safety.

That one word rules every act of Philadelphia Electric. Safety for the public. Safety for our employees. Safety from power failure for those we serve.

Years of striving for greater safety in every operation are proving their full value during these difficult times.

In the operation of motor vehicles, our employees have achieved one of the finest nonaccident records in the country.

And crowning it all, the Office of Civilian Defense has presented your electric company with the National Security Award for extraordinary performance in establishing protective measures against enemy air raids, fires, and avoidable accidents.

With close to 15% of our trained employees away in the armed forces, and equipment replacements made difficult by shortages of essential materials, it still has been possible to have electricity where wanted, when wanted. Not a war plant in this five-county area has been held up by lack of power.

Depend upon it, your neighbors who operate Philadelphia Electric will spare no effort in seeing that this standard of performance is maintained and even improved.

Emblem awarded Philadelphia Electric by Office of Civilian Defense for outstanding safety record.

Medium Sized Forces Hammer at Brunswick—Another
Stage in Destruction of Germany's Railroad Communications — Osnabruck Also Bombed.

By John F. Lee
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
LONDON, Apr. 26—The Brunswick area of Germany, site of Nazi aircraft plants, was blasted again
today by U. S. bombers on the 10th
consecutive day of the sustained Allied aerial offensive against the
invasion-threatened continent.
The official headquarters announcement said medium sized forces hammered targets at Brunswick. Today's offensive was another stage in the destruction of Germany's railroad communications. Brunswick is a large railway junction where a number of trunk
lines meet, as well as a fighter-
plane production center. Osnab-ruck, which the Germans say also
was bombed, is a great railway center, with huge marshalling yards
and freight depots.

Missionary to Ethiopia Speaks at Andalusia

ANDALUSIA, Apr. 26—Donald M.
Davies, a missionary to Ethiopia,
Italian conquest, and who plans to
return next month following studies
at Princeton University, Princeton, N. J., addressed members of Bensalem Rotary Club last evening.
Kenneth Carnahan introduced the
speaker at the dinner meeting in King Hall.

Mr. Davies, who served as minister of McCallister Memorial Presbyterian Church, Torredale, for a
time following his return from the
his experiences as a missionary,
but also of the topography of the
land, customs of the people, their
something of his travels.

He mentioned a journey to the
length on visit to the King's and Queen's chambers, and the enormity of the rooms. Mr. Davies mentioned that the population of Ethiopia is 10,000,000, divided into three
races of people each of which is
very distinctive. He added that Judaism shows a very strong influence.

That the history of the Ethiopian
people is readily traced by them
back 3000 years was another point
brought out, Haile Selassie being
claimed as a direct descendant of King Solomon.

For two years the missionary
served at Addis Ababa, a large city
where there are distinct divisions
between the old and new sections.
He described the newer section as
buildings and modern conveniences.
above sea level, making a delightful
climate in summer. The only means
gauge railroad, extending 500 miles
from Djibouti, the trip requiring
three days, and the train not running at night. There being no roads
or highways, other travel is by
horse-back. Agriculture of Ethiopia
is the main means of livelihood,
great trade in hides, the Rotarians
were informed.

The meeting was in charge of Jacob Scheufele, vice-president,
who extended felicitations to the
Rev. Arthur F. Gibson on the 100th anniversary of Christ Episcopal Church, Eddington, which is being
marked at this season.

A U. S. Marine was killed, and
another injured on Bethlehem Pike while on leave for a much-needed rest following months of action in the Southwest Pacific.

The victims are: William E.
Roehler, 20, of Bath R. D. 1, Lehigh County, who died a short time after the accident in Sacred Heart Hospital, Allentown, Sunday night; and Herbert R. Schuster, 20, of Marlton,
N. J., R. D. 1, who is being treated in the same hospital for broken jaw,
two fractured arms and lacerations
of the head.

The two Marines, who have been
shooting Japs in the jungles, were
sent back to the Philadelphia Navy Yard. They were on a week-end
leave to Roehler's home near Bath,
and were returning to League
Island. About 2:15 Sunday morning
a mile south of Allentown, on the Bethlehem pike, the Marines sig-
for a ride.

John H. Jacoby, 20, of Coopers-burg, RD 1, driver of the approaching automobile, applied his brakes
a skid on the wet highway. The car
swerved around directly into the
path of the two Marines, knocking
dragging them some distance.

injured Marines into his car, with
some difficulty and hurried them to
the hospital.

State Police from the Quaker-
town sub-station investigated.

COLD WEATHER HOLDS BUD DEVELOPMENTS

David M. Purmell, Doylestown, Sees Bumper Crop However

HIGH FRUIT HOPES

DOYLESTOWN, Apr. 26—David M. Purmell, head of the horticultural department at National Farm School, states that continued cold weather is greatly retarding development of the buds on the peach and apple trees, but in spite of this, according to Mr. Purmell, the prospects for a bumper crop of fruit this season are very good.

Peach trees, said Mr. Purmell, at present are in their pink stage, and if the weather conditions are favorable, the trees will be in full bloom in a week or ten days. The apple trees are in their pre-pink stage, and it is expected they will be in bloom in about two weeks.

The past Winter has been quite favorable for the fruit trees, including peach, apple, plum, cherry and pear. There has been no Winter kill, and the buds on all the trees are well set.

At present the pre-pink spray is being applied to the apple trees for protection against the scab, and the pink spray is being placed on the peach trees for protection against brown rot fungus.

The wet and cool weather, said Mr. Purmell, is also preventing the development of asparagus, but ru-barb is showing progress. Until now there has been no sign of asparagus coming through the ground.
Mr. Purmell expects the asparagus

(Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

Mr. Wallace and China

Washington, April 25.
THE forthcoming
trip to China on a
"diplomatic mission" of Mr. Henry Wallace has stirred considerable interest in both diplomatic and political circles. It is, in fact, amazing how many have been found for looking at this latest of our Vice-President's ventures into foreign fields.

MUCH OF the speculation is due
to the mystery of what his mission
really is and why Mr. Wallace, certainly not a conspicuous diplomat,
was chosen as the instrument.
Neither President nor Vice-President has thrown light on these
points, and the only thing known
surely is that the idea originated

State Department. The latter would never voluntarily choose Mr. Wallace as its representative.

IT MAY be worth while to note
some of the reasons assigned for
the Wallace visit. On the diplomatic side, for example, it is said,
first, that he is going to explain to
the Generalissimo why the arms,
munitions and other supplies
promised him at Cairo have not
materialized. It seems that at Cairo
the President optimistically promised the Generalissimo considerably more than we could deliver —
and the latter is understandably
aggrieved at our failure to redeem
our promises. The Wallace job, it is said, is to soothe the Generalissimo's ruffled feelings, allay his
our intentions in this matter are of the best; that in the course of time
we will make good.

So while he kept the furnace
ample opportunity to ponder over
to get the coal dirt out of his suit,
and an explanation to his wife
for a short memory as far as
keys are concerned.

BENSALEM ANNOUNCES A PRE-SCHOOL CLINIC

Second Diphtheria Innocula- tion Will Also Be Included

SCHEDULE IS GIVEN

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, Apr. 26 —The annual clinic for children who may enter the first grades of Bensalem schools has been arranged. The dates, hours and places are as follows: Cornwells school, nine a. m., May 4; Eddington school, nine a. m., May 8; Andalusia school, 10:30 a. m., May 8; Trevoise school, 10 a. m., May 11; Penn Valley school, 10 a. m., May 15.

Any child who will be six years old on or before January 31, 1945, may be enrolled in September, 1944. "To give them the best possible start a strong physical condition is important," state school officials. "The pre-school clinic examines these children to assure you that the children are in best physical condition, or to discover what should be done to restore best health before the opening of the term. Our school doctor and school nurse will conduct these clinics."

The second inoculation against diphtheria and tetanus will be given at the time of these clinics. Such is free. The State Department of Health provides the toxoid. Any child who has had the first injection for diphtheria needs this second one for protection against this disease. It is announced by A. Kurtz King, superintendent of Bensalem Township public schools.

An Evening "At Home"

A sixth ward man took "refuge" in the cellar the other night
for a few hours, but there was no air raid.

Said localite, out with his wife
and mother-in-law, decided to go
home and not accompany the two
women to an evening function
after shopping was completed.

Reaching the house he discovered that he had no key. Anxious
window and slid down through
the coal pile. Up the cellar steps
leading to the kitchen locked.

What to do next? That was the
house proper. But he couldn't
even get out of the cellar for the
grade.

So while he kept the furnace
ample opportunity to ponder over
to get the coal dirt out of his suit,
and an explanation to his wife
for a short memory as far as
keys are concerned.

Rev. W. E. Preston Haas Elected Grand Warden of I. O. O. F. in Pa.

At the election of the Grand Lodge of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, at which time only
the past grands of the state voted,
the Rev. W. E. Preston Haas, pastor
was honored by being elected to the office of grand warden of the State of Pennsylvania.

The installation ceremony will
take place in Pittsburgh during the
installed as grand master of the
June 1946.

The office grand warden is a coveted honor. There were six candidates with the following results:
W. G. Shortz, Luzerne Co., 339
votes; P. B. Cameron, Phila., 999
votes; N. W. Foulke, Bradford Co., 239 votes; I. H. Epstein, of Armstrong Co., 96 votes; G. S. Powell,
Blair Co., 350 votes; W. E. Preston
Haas, Bucks Co., 4,514 votes.

It is not often that the winning
candidate has such a majority over
the whole field. This makes Rev.
Haas the youngest grand warden
claims nearly 90,000 members in this state. There are four orphans-ages, two homes for aged, and two Rebekah homes in this jurisdiction which pays out annually more than $697,000 in sick and death benefits.

Heavy Casualties Inflicted on "Japs" at Arakan

Kandy, Ceylon—Heavy casualties were inflicted on the Japs in the
forces have regained the initiative in the northern sector of the Imphal
front in India, the southeast Asia command said today.

Adm. Lord Louis Mountbatten's headquarters revealed that the Imperial offensive, moving along the road toward Kohima which is 60 miles north, had advanced 22 miles toward the latter communications center.

Another Allied force made further progress in its drive along the
artillery were moving into position for a stepped-up attack to completely
Allied ground offensives, blasting enemy troop concentrations and communications lines.

"No Question of Cession of British Territories to U. S."

London—The House of Commons was assured today by Prime Minister Winston Churchill that there is not the slightest question of the
cession of British territories to the United States after the war.

Churchill's statement was made in reply to a question by Rhys Davies, Laborite member of Parliament. The MP had called attention to a recommendation of a committee of the American House of Representatives for the permanent possession of bases now leased from Britain. Davies asked Churchill for assurance that if a request for cession of British bases was made officially from Washington that the House of Commons be entitled to debate the subject before the Government entered into any such agreement.

Visiting Hurler Blanks Bristol For First Four Frames

"Toby" Oriola had a shaky start on the mound for Bristol High yesterday afternoon as he yielded four tallies to Trenton Catholic in the first inning. The quartet of markers enabled the Jersey boys to score a close 7-6 triumph over the Bristol boys.

After permitting the four runs, Oriola allowed one in each of the second, third and fourth innings and then whitewashed the Catholics boys the remainder of the game.

While this was going on, it was a different story for James, the visiting hurler. For the first four frames, he issued blanks to Bristol. But then he began to tire and was nipped for a run in the fifth, three more in the sixth, and another pair in the Bristol uprising in their last turn with the stick.

It was this last rally which had the crowd on edge. Batting for Stevenson, "Sonny" Fields drew a pass. Johnson got on base via an error. Mari got hold of a James' pitch and wailed it into centerfield, scoring both runners but when he tried to reach third, he was put out. Keyes and Fischer were easy outs.

Bristol hit more steadily in the game than they did at Langhorne. The local boys had 10 safe blows with Mari, Keyes and Oriola getting a pair each. Trenton Catholic had eleven safe hits, with all the players getting at least one with the exception of Colocello.

Oriola's downfall was the result of two passes in the first inning. He walked DiPietro and Warwick got a hit. When Walsh was walked, the bases were loaded. A double by Tobias scored two runs and another pair crossed on a hit by Kelly.

An argument ensued at the finish of the game, the Bristol team claiming that the final score was 6-6 but a recheck of the scorebooks showed that Trenton had seven runs.

In origin, is celebrating this year the 125th anniversary of the first American lodge.

Mr. Haas is a member of American Star Lodge, No. 495, of Philadelphia. His activity in the state organization includes: grand chaplain, 1936-37, for Grand Master

The last clergyman to occupy the office of grand warden was the Rev. Dr. Simon Sipple, of the Reformed Church of Allentown, who was elected in 1929. The last Bucks County man to be so honored was Webster Grim, Esq., of Doylestown, elected in 1927.

Congratulations are being received by Mr. Haas from leaders from all over the state.

A number of members of Hopkins Lodge, No. 87, of Bristol, were active in the campaign for their local candidate. This lodge will meet at seven o'clock tomorrow evening and visit the American Star Lodge in order to be present when the grand warden-elect makes his first official visit to his own lodge.

Keesler Field's (Mississippi) technical training school recently graduated two former residents of Bristol as airplane mechanics in the maintenance of big B-24 Liberator bombers. Finishing their 17-week course here the men will be sent either to line duty, to a factory school for further specialized training, or to one of the Army Air Forces training command's aerial gunnery schools. The graduates include: Pvt. John A. Aquilone, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Aquilone, Pine street; and Pvt. Frank James Aquilone, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Aquilone, Pine street.

Aviation Cadet Elwood W. King, 25, has completed the Army's primary flight training course at Thunderbird Field, No. 1, Glendale, Ariz., and has now commenced his basic flight training at another air field. A/C Elwood W. King, whose home is in Hulmeville, is a graduate of Langhorne-Middletown high school. Before he entered the armed service on June 12, 1943, at Philadelphia, A/C Elwood W. King was employed by Rohm & Haas Co. He served at Keesler Field, Miss.; Texas Tech., Lubbock, Texas; Santa Ana, Cal., and Thunderbird Field, No. 1, Ariz. At Thunderbird Field he was an Aviation Cadet flight sergeant. A/C Elwood W. King is married. His wife resides in Hulmeville.

Here and There In Bucks County Towns

While the younger boy was taking a bath, the other youngster saw flames coming out of a closet under a stairway leading from the first to the second floor. His screams brought the student-nurse downstairs, but in her confusion she was unable to get the police or the fire house on the telephone. Instead, she ran out on the porch and called for help.

Mrs. C. A. Liebig, who lives across the street, heard the girl calling. She was the first to reach the house and started pouring water from kitchen pots on the fire

as soon as she had sent in the fire alarm. She was joined very soon by George Flack, another neighbor. It was the "bucket brigade" work of Mrs. Liebig and Flack that undoubtedly saved the house from total destruction. Fire Chief Clarence Irwin said upon his arrival.

The fire had spread to the stairway and the panelling and beams on the first floor when the fire company arrived, but had not gotten into any of the partitions. It was very promptly extinguished.

Mr. Sienkiewicz stated yesterday that after examining the burned portion of the house with experts no cause for the fire could be determined. The damage, including the contents of the closet, according to Mr. Sienkiewicz, will amount to about $1,000.

From China, Staff Sgt. Harvey Crouthamel, of Buckingham, has sent a copy of the "China-Burma-Indian Roundup," the official Army newspaper of that war theatre, which contains an article about his crew associates aboard a Mitchell Bomber. It is a story of the "little people" of China.

"It all began when a Mitchell bomber of the Chinese-American Composite Wing ran out of gas on the way to its home base. The pilot, Lt. Guy H. Williams, made a quick calculation in the darkening China skies, and set out for an emergency

field. When he landed he was calmly greeted by the Chinese station master, who, after taking the crew to sleeping quarters in the station house, invited them to a nearby city for dinner. When they arrived they found the table set and the meal ready. After they had dined, the inhabitants of the city, who had never seen a Chinese-American crew before, were permitted to file in and view the fliers.

"That night it rained. When the fliers arose in the morning it was to find the bomber mired in the mud. The station master procured several hundred coolies, who tied ropes to the plane and towed it to higher ground.

"The pilot still couldn't see how the plane could take off. So he asked the station master for boards to put under the wheels. The station master said none was available. But he called a conference among the Chinese and then told the pilot that the boards would be brought.

"The boards duly arrived on the backs of the Chinese. It developed that they had gone to their homes and removed their doors, which they proceeded to put under the plane.

again for future use against the common enemy of Nippon."

It was nothing more than a pin-striped blue worsted civilian suit but every soldier in the barracks had a try at "just seeing how I look in it."

Safety.

That one word rules every act of Philadelphia Electric. Safety for the public. Safety for our employees. Safety from power failure for those we serve.

Years of striving for greater safety in every operation are proving their full value during these difficult times.

In the operation of motor vehicles, our employees have achieved one of the finest nonaccident records in the country.

And crowning it all, the Office of Civilian Defense has presented your electric company with the National Security Award for extraordinary performance in establishing protective measures against enemy air raids, fires, and avoidable accidents.

With close to 15% of our trained employees away in the armed forces, and equipment replacements made difficult by shortages of essential materials, it still has been possible to have electricity where wanted, when wanted. Not a war plant in this five-county area has been held up by lack of power.

Depend upon it, your neighbors who operate Philadelphia Electric will spare no effort in seeing that this standard of performance is maintained and even improved.

Down in Elkton, Walter Ortinsky was a popular lad in our Customers' Accounts Division. Now, as an Electrician's Mate, Second Class, with Uncle Sam's Navy, Walter is in English waters helping to keep a tank landing ship tuned up for the day it will make its dash to the Nazi invasion coast. As a member of the Naval Reserve, Walter was called to active duty soon after Pearl Harbor and received his early training at Solomons, Maryland.

Emblem awarded Philadelphia Electric by Office of Civilian Defense for outstanding safety record.
